MASSIVE LIFT STATION being constructed Tuesday morning one-half mile west of Maryville Road on the south side of Old Alton Road. The station is one of three being built to link various parts of the $17.6 million four-township sewer project. The project has reached the 50 percent completion mark. Carpenters prepare scaffolding around concrete forms to allow access by concrete finishers during pouring. The station is 40 feet long and 15 feet wide. An auger, measuring 66 inches in diameter, will be used to lift sanitary sewage a total of 12 feet, entering the station through 36-inch lines. The lift station will service the entire Mitchell area.

Barton plans fight, cites misconception

Madison County Assessment Supervisor James Barton in recent months has become one of the most cussed and discussed officials in the county's history, partly for pursuing in rural western areas a township multiple concept whose use the state is encouraging in other counties. The other part of the criticism has related to his handling of certificates of error.

Barton is fighting mad, and fighting back, he told the Press-Record yesterday.

In his opinion, despite widespread assumptions to the contrary, a high level of efficiency has been achieved. And as for taxpayers are destined to be hurt—at due to actions of some of his critics rather than himself, he is convinced.

An example of the "dirty pool" being played against him, Barton says, is an April 1978 appeal for the certificate of error process to be stopped. This action strongly implied that he was ignoring legal advice and thwarting a supposed reform move, but actually the certificate has been halted since the initial action was raised earlier this year.

Another factor that angers Barton is continuing spreading of an assessment comparison that fail to note passage of time in the related property sale price inflation.

In eastern Madison County, where Barton has the image of overassessing, there actually has been much underassessing, he contends. In the more urbanized western area, he has the image of "underassessing political cronies" but in many cases subsequent sales have shown his valuations were too high, Barton said.

In brief, property assessments are made and then published. If the owner notes it and reacts promptly with a complaint of excessive valuation, he is scheduled for a Board of Review hearing and whatever change occurs is published.

If the property owner fails to react in time and instead complains a year later, when the tax bill arrives, the certificate of error procedure now in limbo has been utilized, Barton related.

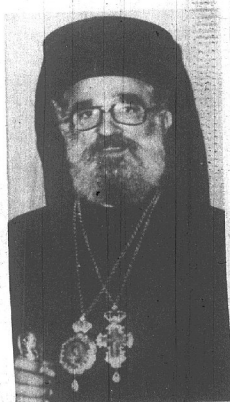

Issuance of certificates is likely to resume this summer but with an extended sequence involving county clerk and state's attorney approvals, inserted between the start in the Review Board-assessment supervisor office and the conclusion in the county treasurer's office.

Although no new laws or court verdicts have occurred in recent years affecting the "widely known, not at all obscure" certificate of error process utilized in nearly all Illinois counties for many decades, Barton asserts, recent legal opinions emphasize remedying mathematical mistakes and prevent correction of judgment errors. It is this cautious legal viewpoint, largely stemming from this year's criticism of his office, that seems certain to hurt four categories of taxpayers, Barton believes.

Incidentally, he applauds Monday's Illinois Senate passage of legislation that would require newspaper publication within 30 days. Sen. Sam Vadala, sponsor, said there has been talk of

Inflation to trim 5 city workers

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Granite City may have to lay off five employees in the near future, Mayor Paul Schuler told the Press-Record Monday evening.

The staff reductions, made necessary by a shortage of funds in the 1979-80 fiscal year, will affect the police and fire departments, the street department, the sewage treatment plant and other departments, Schuler said.

"It's simple. We are $1,147,000 over budget. We spent more than we took in last year and spent all our surplus from revenue sharing and increased assessments."

Inflation is chewing the back out of us as it has just caught up with us. When you figure that we are collecting taxes one year after they are levied, we lose 1 to 1.5 percent to inflation, off the top," Mayor Schuler said.

The first move to reduce the city's staff has been to ask department heads to determine which employees are eligible for early retirement and ask them if the incentives would be sought by those who retire.

"We are hopeful we can make the needed reductions in staff without laying anyone off, but we will, if necessary, lay off those with the least seniority, according to their union contracts," the mayor told the Press-Record.

He said he has suggested reductions of about three men in each of the police, fire, ambulance and sewage treatment areas and a total of at least three from other city departments.

"I realize there may be an unequal do what we have to do to keep the city operating within the funds we have available," the mayor concluded.

Teachers challenge amount of 'red ink'

Granite City School District borrowing for the 1978-79 school year may or may not top $2 million, depending on whether the next state aid check arrives before or after a major payday May 25.

But the assertion of a substantial imbalance was challenged yesterday in a letter delivered to School Supt. B. J. Davis by Shirley Stoll, president of the Granite City Federation of Teachers.

She asserted, "This letter is a follow-up to my letter of March 20, 1979. The Granite City Federation of Teachers, Local 743, has spent considerable time in attempting to evaluate the economic conditions of School District Nine."

"Our review has led us to the conclusion that we are not in the 'suicidal' condition that the district keeps projecting.

"Although the 1978-79 budget projected an approximately $2,000,000 deficit in the Education Fund, it is absolutely clear from more recent releases from the district and through a comparative analysis of past financial records that this projection was grossly exaggerated."

"The community has been given dire predictions of financial distress characterized by the need to issue anticipation warrants."

"We feel that this has not been satisfactorily explained to the public. There is nothing wrong about anticipation warrants, and particularly if they are being used essentially for purposes of resolving problems of 'cash flow.'"

The only burden that anticipation warrants cause the district is reflected in interest payments which have to be made.

"It is perfectly clear from a review of the district's finances that only a minimal amount of money ($4,000-plus in 1977-79) and less to date in 1979 has been spent for such interest and that this expenditure has been more than balanced by enormous sums of money achieved through interest on investments made by the district out of the same Educational Fund."

"We think it is extremely unfortunate that a proper explanation of the use of anticipation warrants for short periods of time has not been fully given to parents and other members of the community."

"In summary, we believe that the financial condition of the district is sound and stable, and we do not project the kinds of financial problems for the coming year that the district is predicting."

"Under these circumstances, we see no need to eliminate teachers from School District Nine," the letter concluded.

The district is closing three grade schools and ending about 60 teaching jobs.

Smith cutback

Cutback of 300 employees at A. O. Smith has been ordered due to a reduction in shipping requirements by General Motors, a plant spokesman confirmed Tuesday.

The layoffs became effective during the weekend.

The plant spokesman said the workers given layoff notices will be sent back "as needed" and that a cut in operations is anticipated by fall.

A number of reasons for the reduction were given, including loss of car deliveries during the truck strike, changes for new models and a cutback in the demand for standard-sized cars.

The plant cutbacks reduces the total number of employees at A. O. Smith to 1,000 workers, down from a total of 1,300 employees, the spokesman said.

The layoffs will cause some revisions in the number of lines operating at the plant, but no details were released. Three-shift operations will continue, the spokesman said.

Arrests at speed of 56

Because lower speeds are more fuel efficient, Illinois Governor James R. Thompson yesterday urged motorists limit themselves to 50 miles an hour and ordered state police to enforce the 55 speed law by arresting those who drive even one mile over the limit.

"People can still use their cars and boats and visit Grandma or whatever else they want to do, but we can't have that and wasteful driving habits. It's one or the other," the governor said. "Let's slow down and save gasoline."

Petition seeks improvements to Old Alton Road

Construction of sanitary sewers throughout Nameoki and Chouteau Townships has brought a series of complaints about the condition of streets and yards in construction areas, and a group of residents along Old Alton Road in Chouteau Township has banded together to try and get that road repaired.

A petition bearing the signatures of 17 residents of the 5100 block of Old Alton Road is being presented to various local and county officials in an attempt to have the road repaired and a delegation of the residents plans to attend the May 23 meeting of the county's special sewer committee, if repairs are not underway by that date.

The sewer committee will meet Wednesday, May 23, at 7 p.m. in the Pontoon Beach Village Hall.

The text of the petition follows.

"We, the residents of Old Alton Road, are upset and quite concerned about the poor condition of Old Alton Road between Maryville Road and Interstate 270. We have heard from a member of the Chouteau Township Street Department that S. M. Wilson and G.H. Sternberg are responsible for the upkeep of the road until the sewers are completed, at which time a new road is to be constructed. (Note—Sternberg is no longer involved in the sewer project.)

"We were also told that companies have spread the wrong substance on the road, causing a sticky, tar-like surface that is still present, even after sand is spread numerous times every day, including Sunday.

"Many of us must walk through this to get our mail, and our tires bring the tar and rocks on our driveways. Consequently, it is brought onto the floors and carpets.

"There are deep ruts and potholes that run down the middle of the road. Motorists have been driving in the drainage ditch to avoid the black substance getting on their cars.

"Some of them drive quite slowly, causing other impatient motorists to pass them at what, we feel, is an unsafe speed for this road.

"Since there are no sidewalks here, we and our children walk in these drainage ditches. We would appreciate having our road made safe before there is a bad accident or one of our children is killed by a car," the petition concludes.

Four arrested

Four 17 year old youths have been released from Granite City jail on $35 cash bond each, charged with being in possession of alcohol at 11:35 p.m. Saturday.

While on patrol police allegedly saw the four parked on the Corral Liquors parking lot with the door open and an eight pack of beer in view.

Police allegedly found another eight pack of beer inside the car.

Facing 1 1/2 charge are Mark Galt, 1602 Donaldson, 1602 Maple, 76; Merle Lee Mollet, 1602 Maple Ave.; Michael, Jan, 2233 Dewey Ave.; and Timothy G. McCoy, 2115 Benton St.

LOCAL ARTIST Anthony Doneff, 803 Grand Ave., Madison, is putting the finishing touches on the above painting of Pope John Paul II. Doneff, a retired house painter, has had no art training. He paints as a hobby. The portrait was done from a photograph. When finished, the painting will hang at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

"abuse of certificates" and "reduction of taxes for influential people and their associates."

Admitting that citizens think there have been abuses and instances of favoritism, Barton says it isn't so. And he uses some of the publicly-discussed valuations as examples that he says prove just the opposite of what has been assumed.

One widely discussed property assessed at $100,000 ($35,000 as a third of full value) sold at $50,000. After the indicated value had been cut to $50,000, the building later sold for $25,000, Barton said yesterday.

A downtown Granite City commercial building valued at $560,000 ($120,000 times three) later was sold for only $120,000, the assessment supervisor said.

And a discussion of a renovated structure has ignored the fact that the assessment now criticized was set as of Jan. 1, 1977, well before the remodeling took place.

With distortions being voiced, Barton hopes to set the record straight with balanced information, he related. He also emphasized that many thousands of persons and firms have been aided by issuance of certificates of error, not just those selectively mentioned by his critics.

Many certificates were necessary because of Madison County's effort to get all possible corporate personal property on the assessment books before this year's scheduled enactment of a replacement tax, Barton says.

Without the full spectrum of property being listed, the state's provision of a new replacement tax for this county would have been an inadequate level, he adds.

In the drive to assess some previously non-assessed property, understandable errors were made that, in fairness, had to be corrected, Barton says.

"Human errors of judgment by township assessors or the county do occur," he stresses in saying that new constraints on issuance of certificates cannot help but cause considerable injustice.

An example cited is when a home burns to the ground in late March. It has been the practice to eliminate three-fourths of the valuation for that calendar year, but now this will be impossible.

He blames his critics and voices praise for State's Attorney Nicholas Byron, whom he says is trying conscientiously to chart a procedural path that will be as fair as possible to all property owners.

Also destined to be harmed are senior citizens who fail to apply for their homestead exemptions in time, and home owners, who did not turn in specific requests for up to $1,500 exemption on tax rises associated with assessment increases, Barton said.

Also adversely affected will be those who purchase homes too late to file for a Review Board hearing and discover that their assessments are substantially higher than those of identical nearby homes, he concluded.

Teachers

business affairs, obtained School Board authorization Tuesday night for new tax anticipation warrants of up to $1,300,000.

He noted that the board April 17 approved warrants not to exceed $550,000, and Warrant No. 5 amounting to $220,000 was issued May 10 on the basis of that action. This increased the year's warrants to $920,000.

"For our projected needs through June 8, the maximum necessary will be $1,300,000, but if the state aid is received this need would be reduced to $900,000," Heubner said.

"With these warrants, it won't be necessary to issue additional tax warrants until late July. It was estimated Feb. 15 that through June 30 we would need to borrow $1,600,000 to $1,800,000, and if the state aid arrives the total now will be about $1,800,000."

Board approval was given Tuesday night to increase loans to the Education Fund by $1,363 to a total of $1,118,643, due to receipt of small amounts of tax collections from Venice Township and the Mobile Homes account.

The 1979-80 tax warrants needed to meet July and August expenses will depend on the speed of tax distributions. It now appears that the bulk of tax receipts cannot be expected until August, Heubner said.

Early payment of June-July-August salaries on May 25 has been requested by teachers in the amount of $17,000, compared to $70,000 a year ago.

The School Board designated Heubner to prepare the July 1979-June 1980 tentative school budget and approved the following timetable: July 1 to 8 — Within this period, a preliminary tentative budget will be given to the board for review and input prior to the final tentative budget.

Balance of July — Revisions to be made on the preliminary tentative budget, as necessary.

Aug. 1 — A final tentative budget presented to the board for adoption.

July 30 — Public notice of availability of budget for public inspection will appear in the July 30 edition of the paper.

Aug. 2 — Tentative budget adopted by the Board Aug. 1 will be available for public inspection.

Sept. 4 — Public hearing to be held on the budget; on this date the budget can be adopted, or if adjustments are necessary they may be made after that date and up until Sept. 18, at which time the budget should be adopted.

Sept. 25 — Tentative date for filing tax levies and budgets.

Sewer charges deductible?

Granite City taxpayers may be able to deduct some or all of their sewer and sewage treatment bills from their federal income taxes next year, if a proposal by Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman of the Second Ward is found to be legal by City Attorney Lance Callis. Schuman Tuesday night showed the city council a magazine article which reported some communities were encouraging their residents to deduct that portion of the bills for cityprovided utilities which are "for maintenance, repair and interest charges" on local improvements. Schuman said utility services provided by private companies do not qualify, according to the article, so water, gas and electric service to Granite City residents probably cannot be used for tax deductions.

However, Schuman said, indications are that a portion of the sewer and sewage treatment bills paid by Granite

City residents may be tax deductible. "I think it is up to the city to provide the necessary information, possibly right on the sewer bills, as to what portion of the bill is tax deductible."

The council agreed to refer the question to the city attorney and pollution plant officials for additional study and for determination of what percentage of sewage treatment and sewer bills may qualify for tax deductions.

Family night at bank

About 90 employees and their families attended the ninth annual family night and awards program at American Heritage Bank of Granite City.

The event was held in the bank lobby, where guests were welcomed by Henry D. Karandjeff, board chairman and president.

Special honors were accorded seven employees who received service awards.

Those honored were: Gale McFarland, a loan department secretary who has been with the bank for 15 years.

Frank Lindsay, custodian and part-time employee, who received a 10-year award; and Pat Allen, Rosemary Geroff, Mary Key, Robert H. Karandjeff, vice president and cashier, and Frank J. Palank, assistant vice-president, all of whom received one-year awards.

Karandjeff introduced the bank directors and their wives, and the Rev. Dr. David B. Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation.

Entertainment included a presentation by Sanjo the Clown, whose bag of magical tricks baffled the youngsters and fascinated adult viewers, a bank spokesman noted.

Sanjo in real life is the Rev. John W. Ratcliff, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Venice, described as the oldest church in this area.

Gifts were presented by Sanjo to all the youthful guests to conclude the family night party.

who has 15 years' service with the bank, and Pat Allen and Mary Kee, each with one year's service, during a "family and awards night" party. Four other employees also received awards.

Hospice orientation; classes for volunteers and nurses

Hospice of Madison County completed plans this week for its orientation meeting, to get the Hospice training program under way. The date is Wednesday, May 23, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 1010 Street and Delmar Avenue.

Dr. Shabbir H. Safdar, medical director of the Hospice, said the public is invited and there is no obligation to the program in attending the orientation meeting.

However, he feels that anyone interested in taking either of the training programs should register as a member of the Hospice and have the $10 membership dues paid.

Dr. Safdar said, "The training programs can help an individual with his need for understanding of and coping with the problems of death and dying. Also, they will help to better prepare one to handle the emotional acceptance of a terminal illness, if and when one may strike in his or her own family."

At the orientation meeting each instructor will explain his discipline, in a 10-minute talk. The disciplines to be covered are as follows.

DOCTOR'S ROLE IN MEDICINE will be presented by Dr. Shabbir H. Safdar, practicing oncologist, medical director and chairman of the board of directors for the Hospice.

NURSE'S TRAINING PROGRAM was written and will be presented by Linda Lillis, an RN, instructor of nursing at SUE and director of education for the Hospice, and Doris Bell, RN, assistant professor of nursing at SUE and a member of the Hospice.

Volunteer will be presented by Nina Millett, a social worker at St. Francis Hospital and co-chairman of the board of the Hospice. This program will be presented by Rebecca Slate, coordinator of adult volunteers at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and director of volunteers for the Hospice.

Also assisting in this program will be Lois Lybarger, a nurse from the Mental Health Clinic who is working in the Hospice program as her practicum, for a master degree in counselor education.

"Volunteers play a large and important role in a hospice program. No matter what your occupation, skills or speciality might be, if you are interested, you could be a valuable asset as a hospice volunteer," Dr. Safdar commented.

SOCIAL WORK was written and will be presented by Nina Millett.

PASTORAL SERVICES, written and to be presented by Rev. Charles Zachary, RN, pastor of the Madison United Presbyterian Church and director of clergy for the Hospice.

BEREAVEMENT, written and to be presented by Irving Rosvold, who has done extensive work with cancer patients and their families in Edwardsville, and is director of the Bereavement Council for the Hospice.

ABNORMAL GRIEF, written and presented by Nina Millett.

FUNERAL DIRECTOR, Randall Irwin will give a 10-minute talk.

After all disciplines have been explained, there will be a question and answer period, and then registration for the two training programs will take place.

The nurses' training program will be held each Wednesday for four weeks starting Wednesday, May 30, from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m., at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., Granite City. The room in which this class is to be held will be announced at the orientation meeting.

The volunteers' training program will be held each Monday for four weeks, starting Monday, June 4, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., in the Wiesman Room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

"At the end of the training programs, we are planning to combine the two classes, so the other disciplines can be covered," Dr. Safdar said.

"If you have any questions, you may call the Hospice of Madison County office at 788-3615.

"We hope to see you at the meeting May 23, and why don't you bring a friend?"

Knights of Columbus to convene

More than 1,500 Knights and their families will be in Springfield this weekend for the 82nd annual Knights of Columbus state meeting at the Holiday Inn East.

State Deputy Herbert L. Gegenhuber of Palatine will call the convention to order officially on Saturday morning following a civic opening at 9 a.m. when local and state officials greet the representatives of Illinois' largest Catholic fraternal society.

Later in the day, a number of councils will be recognized for their work in the statewide fund-raising program on behalf of the mentally retarded last fall.

More than $751,000 was collected in the drive that saw more than 75 cents of every dollar raised returned to sheltered workshops and homes for the retarded in the communities where the funds were solicited.

Awards also will be presented to individuals and councils that supported the Newman Apostolate program and helped make the 1979 project the most successful since the fund-raising drive began 65 years ago.

The knights' Newman Fund helps Newman Centers on secular, campuses throughout the state to defray the costs of their programming.

Still another record-breaker is the state disaster fund, an emergency program that provides funds to churches, schools, or hospitals damaged by fire or flood.

On Saturday evening, a 5:30 Mass will be celebrated at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, with Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas of Springfield presiding.

Bishop Arthur J. O'Neill of Rockford, the K of C state chaplain, and Father William J. Lion, associate state chaplain and director of the Illinois Catholic Conference, will celebrate the Mass.

Following the services the knights and their ladies will attend the State Deputy's banquet at the Holiday Inn East. During the course of the evening, State Deputy Gegenhuber will cite nine councils for their programming and support of state programs, and will recognize several key members.

On Sunday morning, resolutions will be presented to the delegates representing 279 councils in the state.

The knights are asking that the words "born and unborn" be added to the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Membership in the Knights of Columbus is in excess of 1,275,000.

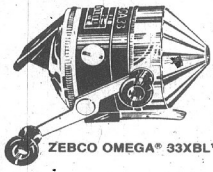

Illinois expects to have about 71,600 members by the end of the fraternal year June 30.

Suggestions on Madison school buildings wanted

At a special meeting of the Madison School Board on Monday, preliminary planning as to what to do with the Madison Junior High and Dunbar School buildings was a major topic of discussion.

A spokesman said the board will consider any proposals from any group or citizen that is submitted in writing on or before Wednesday June 20. There is no intention, by the board, to tear down the buildings, it was noted. The board seeks to sell the buildings in a manner that would benefit the community and school district, not necessarily limiting itself to the highest bidder.

Under Illinois law, it was explained to the board, the buildings should be sold to any taxpayer, city, county or township without bid.

To sell the buildings, the board must first adopt a resolution declaring the buildings are no longer needed.

The resolution is to be sent to the Madison County Regional Board of School Trustees, which will be meeting the first week of July and is the legal title holder.

The trustees consider the local board's recommendation and can place the buildings for sale, stipulating minimum acceptable prices and the right to reject all offers.

The sale is advertised for three weeks and then reviewed by the Madison board.

The local school board has the final authority as to the sale.

A report to the board on the progress of negotiations for the 1979-80 teacher contract was given. No specifics were made public, but school authorities said they feel the negotiations are going well.

The two buildings in question are being phased out due to the building of the new middle school.

In other business the board authorized advertising for bids to re-roof the center section of Louis Baer School; approved a school picnic for Blair School on May 24, being planned by the parents; and authorized the MHS girls track team to attend a meet in Charleston on Friday and Saturday.

Douglas repeats views on sharing of revenue

Objections to Granite City Township using revenue sharing funds to aid in funding lighting for the Fehling Road soccer and baseball complex and for improvements to the gymnasium at Granite City High School North were voiced by First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas during a public hearing on the township's budgets Tuesday night and during the town board meeting which followed.

Douglas, who is an attorney and an alderman, contended the expenditure of township funds for school district improvements is illegal, unless there are assurances the recreation facilities provided by the funds will be available to all the residents of the township and unless the city receives some consideration from the school district in return.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, acting as mayor pro-tem at the meeting, dismissed Douglas' opinion on the issue, saying, "If you go to two attorneys, you will get two different opinions. Mr. (William) Schooley, who is the attorney for the township, says it is legal and that is good enough for me."

Douglas said his opinion was based upon opinions he has received on similar projects from the Illinois attorney general's office, the Department of Local Government Affairs, and state statutes.

Schooley said the statutes are conflicting, but do provide for the use of revenue sharing funds for recreational purposes. The attorney general's opinion and opinion from the Department of Local Government Affairs are not binding and are only opinions, Schooley said.

"I am sure enough of my opinion, at I put it in writing and I will stand behind it," Schooley said.

Douglas said he believed approval of the money for the school district would be challenged by some taxpayers and would probably result in an injunction to keep the city from "giving away" the revenue sharing funds, 17 Whitmer invited him to make the issue to court.

Bids for the lighting of the Fehling Road soccer and baseball complex were to be opened at 3 p.m. today and will be referred to the council, seated at the town board, at a future meeting.

Larry L. Cox, 24, of 205 Allen St., Eagle Park Acres, faces a total of 25 charges after his car allegedly was chased from Venice through Madison and Granite City to Lincoln Place last night.

The chase began about 11 p.m. Wednesday when Venice police alleged seeing a maroon Pontiac violate stop sign at Klein and Brown streets. Madison police joined the chase in the 1700 block of Market Street and reported the chase was on Collinsville and Alton avenues to Madison Avenue, where the auto went north toward Granite City, occasionally driving north in the southbound lanes.

Two Granite City squad cars were reported pursuing officers. The driver also turned off the car's headlights during the chase, witnesses said.

The auto entered Granite City on Madison Avenue and the chase continued on 18th Street to Benton and then west on Niedringhaus Avenue into Lincoln Place.

Two Granite City squad cars set up a roadblock on Niedringhaus Avenue at American Steel Foundries, but the auto managed to get through the roadblock, officers said.

The auto continued to wash the gasoline from the pavement. Police charged Cox with violating three stop signs, driving on a suspended driving license, no headlights, reckless damage and a state charge of criminal damage to fire department equipment.

Madison police charged him with five stop sign violations, reckless driving, fleeing from police, and driving on a suspended license.

Venice police also charged him with the suspended license, reckless driving and seven stop sign violations.

He was being held today in the Granite City Jail.

Speed limit is emphasized at law and order banquet

Adherence to the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit in Illinois to save lives and reduce fuel usage was urged by 33-year-old Daniel Webb, director of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement (state police), during the ninth annual Elks Lodge 1063 Law and Order Banquet Monday night at the lodge.

"Asking for voluntary compliance with the 55 m.p.h. speed limit," Webb stated, "If you support us, when you need us, we will try as best we can to be there to support you."

"Law enforcement can only do so much. If you, as citizens, refuse to comply with the law, law enforcement is virtually impossible. The state police are here to serve you," he said.

He said most law enforcement personnel feel that the 55 m.p.h. speed limit made a substantial contribution in saving lives and reducing fuel consumption, but in the last few years, the decline in compliance with the speed limit has been striking.

"Whether there is a legitimate shortage of gasoline or not, I don't know, but I do know that adhering to the 55 limit can be very effective in reducing fuel consumption," the speaker said.

He noted the Illinois Division of Law Enforcement has three major divisions. The state troopers enforce traffic regulations and aid motorists in trouble, including accidents.

The Division of Criminal Investigation (IDOC) has about 400 plain-clothes officers who investigate major crimes, narcotics, organized and white collar crimes and who aid local police departments in special cases.

The third division, the Division of State Services, headed by Deputy Director John Landers, who was present at the banquet, provides investigators, laboratory and fingerprint analysis work and aids local police departments with scientific support services.

"With the three divisions, we try to avoid duplication of services in law enforcement. We are trying to plan ahead to the future," Webb said.

"It is difficult to prevent crime. Basically, we can only respond to crime and engage in activities to help prevent crime, such as predicting where crimes may occur."

"We are trying to provide the best service that we possibly can on a state and local level," the speaker concluded.

Law enforcement officers from throughout the Quad-City area also were praised by Earl Buenger, Americanism chairman for the Elks Lodge, and by Fred Cunningham, exalted ruler of the lodge.

Mearl Justice, Cahokia chief of police and a well-known speaker at local functions, was toastmaster for the event.

The lodge served steak dinners to more than 200 persons attending the annual event. The Rev. James Mory of St. John's United Church of Christ offered the invocation, and benediction.

My sister, the trucker

My little sister came to visit me a couple of weeks ago, and my house will never be the same.

With my being at work all day, Terry, my one and only sister, decided to get domestic.

You must understand, the lady claims to be one of the hardest drivin' truckers on the continent. Her home, she says, is anywhere the 18 wheeler is parked. So for her, being in a home is unusual and being domestic a novelty.

Not knowing the idiosyncrasies of my home and family did not help, and her experience living "on the road" made everything just a little weird.

For instance, when I would call to see how she was getting along, I would get answers like, "Keep the pedal to the metal, good buddy" or "I got a grip on that." I had a hard time understanding her citizen band radio jargon and I am a CBER myself.

She offered to take the boys on an outing one afternoon. Her idea was to take the kids for a ride. What she didn't tell me was that she intended to put them aboard her "diesel car" (truck) and take them to Chicago.

My sister has a heart of gold but she lives the life of one stricken with terminal wanderlust.

The whole time she was visiting she listened for the phone call that would send her on her way.

That might have been what put a crimp in her domestic style. She kept asking me strange questions like where to put the quarters in the washing machine and what time did the kitchen open.

One evening she got on my CB radio and began to talk her trucker's jargon to a lot of the people I talk to. Our voices are very similar and everyone thought that she was me. It got pretty wild, I must say, with "friends asking me when I had started driving an 18 wheeler."

I loved the fact that she made biscuits and gravy for breakfast every morning, but passed on the eggs fried in vegetable oil. I balked when she suggested that we all go out to eat, though. She wanted to take us to a nice little truckstop she knew of, in Tucson.

All in all it was quite a visit. The boys were impressed by their traveling aunt. They keep running around the house since the visit telling me the difference between a cab-over and a flatnose diesel.

And the phrase, "I got a grip on that" has become a standard answer for every question or statement.

I just hope she never takes up bullfighting. I don't think I could handle the bull. (Note to Gordon Warfield and family: Thanks again for helping this hassled lady get the van going. I would be there yet if not for your kindness. c.j.)

Brush pickup ends June 1

Brush pickups by the Granite City Street Department will be discontinued for the summer, effective June 1. Street Superintendent Lionel Portell said Wednesday.

Portell explained the cutoff is usual this time of the year to permit assignment of street workers to road repairs, resurfacing work and other duties. A schedule of final pickups in different areas of the city will be announced early next week to allow one final pickup before that work is discontinued, he said.

Portell said the pickup of brush, limbs and tree cuttings will be resumed in the fall.

Fence for park swim pool; teen, adult and family nights

Bids for a proposed fencing project at the Wilson Park swimming pool were taken in a burglary reported Thursday at Allen's Food City, 2686 Iowa St.

Entry was gained by prying a door screen and reaching inside to unhook the door. An area near the checkout counter had been ransacked and $3 in change was stolen.

Coolers and a meat case were opened and an auto inside the building and a storeroom were searched.

Missing were a sabbre saw, valued at $25, a skill saw, $45, an electric drill, $20, and five cartons of cigarettes, $25.

than the original. The revised plan to be pursued.

The original plan called for the placement of an eight-foot fence on the east side of the bathhouse building enclosing both bathhouse entrances and the access to the upper level of the building. A concession stand for pool patrons and a sunbathing area was proposed for the upper deck.

Nolan's plan calls for the fencing of an area of approximately 1,430 square feet adjacent to the north side of the present building and east of the deep end of the pool.

This area would be accessible by persons in the pool area. Prior to this time persons using the pool facility were not allowed to go to the public concession stand located east of the pool without paying again to enter the pool area.

The area, with measurements of 54 feet by 25 feet, is already paved and would require only a six-foot fence placed on three sides. The fourth side would utilize the present six-foot fence which surrounds the pool.

Nolan's proposal was adopted by the board and Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation, is to negotiate with the Granite City Fence Co. for the proposed changes in the plans.

Other business conducted by the board included the establishment of teen, adult and family nights at the pool. Teen night will be each Friday from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. and adult night is scheduled for Thursday evenings during the same times.

Tuesday will be family night each week with reduced rates for families from 6 to 9 p.m. Children must be accompanied by at least one parent to be eligible for the special rates.

Rental fees for use of the pool were set at $50 for two hours, after regular operating hours on Mondays, Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Rental of the pool facilities for birthday parties was established by the board. The same $50 for two hours rate applies but each child attending will receive a hot dog, potato chips and small soda.

A 30-person maximum limit has been set and a charge of an additional $1 for each adult over 30 years of age was also agreed upon. Five committees were appointed by Board President George Sykes. The five are:

Engineering-David Nolan, chairman, John Worthen and Jack Hood.

Finance-Worthen, chairman, Barry Loman and Hood.

Municipal Relations-Loman, chairman, Nolan and Worthen.

Rules-Hood, chairman, Nolan and Loman.

Planning-Worthen, chairman, Loman, Nolan and Hood. Sykes is also a member of the planning committee.

The next regular meeting of the board will be on Wednesday, May 23, at the park office.

Federal funds for Bi-State

The Bi-State Development Agency has received final approval for $13,824,900 in federal funds, it was announced by Roy J. May, chairman of Bi-State's Board of Commissioners. The funds were requested as the federal portion of the 1979-1980 fiscal year budget and will provide operating assistance for the 160-route bus system serving the metropolitan area.

A check in the amount of $11,287,569 was received May 7 to partially defray costs incurred from last July through April of this fiscal year. The remainder of the funds will be provided during the final two months of the fiscal year.

The federal funds supplement monies provided locally through the half-cent transportation sales tax collected in the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County, the Downstate Operating Assistance program of the state of Illinois, and revenues obtained from fares paid by passengers.

The present $65.8 million budget includes $22.7 million from St. Louis and $2.2 million from Illinois. The board is considering July 1979-1980 budget of $71.3 million, up 8.6 percent.

PTA officers are installed, Reid honored

Frohardt School PTA held its last general meeting of the school year last week. Principal Lee Reid conducted the installation of new officers of the PTA for 1979-80.

Installed were: John Fuhrman, president; Linda Yates, vice-president; Jackie Fuhrman, secretary; and Barbara Monroe, treasurer.

Picnic chairman Laverne Hammond announced that plans are being made for the school picnic to be held May 22. Fuhrman announced the last skate party and said a Tacky Day parade is planned for May 23.

Following the business meeting a surprise "This Is Your Life" program noting Principal Reid's retirement was held. A scrapbook featuring the history and pictures of his life was used in collaboration with surprise guest speakers.

Guest speakers included Mrs. Mary Anne Reid, his wife, and children David and Debbie; Mrs. Mary Herring, a former student; Jim Colp, cubmaster; Mrs. Jackie Thompson, the school secretary; teachers Mrs. Ruth Seymour and Mrs. Estelle Massie; and Don Kopp, principal at Nameoka School, and Ted Vrench, Wilson School principal.

A touch of humor was added by the performances of Eleanor Fraser, Bill Yates, and Barbara Monroe. President John Fuhrman presented Reid with a plaque dedicating the school library in his honor and with a memento honoring his years of service to the school. A reception was held in the cafeteria after the program and refreshments were served. Approximately 120 people attended the program.

Appeal successful on desegregation—Cronin

The State Board of Education was victorious Friday in its appeal of a 1978 Circuit Court decision declaring the State Board's rules on school desegregation to be invalid.

"The decision is a victory not only for the State Board, but for the school children of Illinois," State Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin said this week. The Appellate Court struck down a Jan. 12, 1978, ruling by the Kane County Circuit Court which declared the "rules prescribed by the State Board establishing requirements and procedures for the elimination and prevention of racial segregation in the schools" to be void and enjoining the State Board from enforcing the rules.

The Appellate Court declared that the Circuit Court was in error in not allowing the State Board a hearing following the court's entry of a preliminary injunction.

Also, the court declared, "It is error as a violation of fundamental fairness to enter a declaratory judgment against non-defending defendants in the absence of an answer or hearing."

In reversing the 1978 decision, the Appellate Court remanded the case back to the Circuit Court of Kane County to allow the State Board to answer the complaint. The suit originated in July 1977 when the Aurora East School District filed a complaint against the State Board, challenging the board's authority to establish rules and regulations on school desegregation.

In commenting on the decision, Dr. Cronin said he is pleased by the outcome. "This may help break a logjam of desegregation cases in Cook County and elsewhere," he said. "The decision will also give us a chance to argue the Kane County case on its merits."

CBers jamboree will aid Shriners Hospital

PEOPLE

The Shriners Hospital was the beneficiary for funds raised by the Flippertail CB Radio Club Third Annual Jamboree, held Sunday at the Granite City Army Depot.

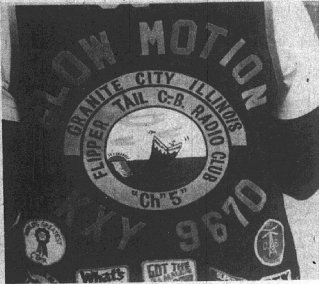

The event brought CBers from all over the country into the Quad-Cities for a one day get together. Over 50 chartered CB radio clubs were represented that day and the mode of dress was enough to cause quite a few double takes.

Aside from the colorful vests, with their patches, buttons and the like, there were lots of things to see and do as the local CBers put on quite a show for their out of town guests.

The Shrine clowns were on hand to entertain the children. There were games to play, things to buy and people to meet.

CBers go to jamborees to meet other CBers, some traveling thousands of miles a year in order to meet as many people as possible. Emcee for the event was "Hollywood" (Rich Cockrell), a local CBER who spends a lot of his time on the jamboree trail, promoting CB as a hobby.

It was a fine day, with everyone having fun, and the Shriners Hospital will be getting a healthy check soon, thanks to the Flippertail CB Radio Club.

JAMBOREE TOGS.

DIRECTORS of the Community Christian Center at Community Heights Assembly of God Church are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boyer. Also pictured is their daughter, Andria.

Boyers new community directors at church

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald (Sandra) Boyer have assumed the duties of Community Christian Center directors for the Community Heights Assembly of God Church at Faith and Buxton avenues.

The position has been created due to the rapid growth in the church and the undertaking of Community Center building which is now under construction.

The Boyers are graduates of the Granite City School System. Boyer is continuing his educational training with course study in psychology, sociology, and public speaking.

Boyer serves as Minute Man for all Illinois District Assemblies of God and as councilman for Evangel College in Springfield, Mo.

Mrs. Boyer is active in many of the church activities and is currently employed by Illinois Bell in Granite City. They have one daughter, Andria, age 9.

Each team receives an income equal to the value of its product. The group visited a commune with a population of 75,000, with 15,000 households. The commune raised many ducks, chickens and hogs. Water buffalos were used in many of the fields.

The Engelkes visited a school in this commune. Four grade pupils were studying English and conjugating verbs.

They printed sentences well on the blackboard, in English. Sixth grade pupils were working on high school algebra.

The school building was a two-story brick structure but the facilities were found to be poor.

Children were well disciplined and seemed happy. They were dressed in bright colors and American fashions.

The group traveled by plane to Peking. The first place, the group visited in Peking was Transman Square, where thousands of Chinese gathered around to see the Americans.

The workers were dressed in blue Mao suits while the soldiers and security men were attired in green. Chinese sailors drilled on the Square.

Polaroid cameras were something new to these people and the pictures were greatly appreciated by them.

On the Sunday the group traveled to the Great Wall, thousands of Chinese were at the railroad station applauding as they boarded the train.

Other places of interest visited were The Palace Museum, the Summer Palace, the Temple of Heaven and the Ming Tombs.

Only a few Americans have visited Shenyang. Large signs with "A warm welcome to our American friends" were seen.

When people would see the tour bus, they would run into the street and applaud.

This city was occupied by the Japanese and was liberated by the Americans in 1945. The Chinese people have not forgotten this, the tour group was told.

While in Shenyang, the group attended the first anniversary of the Chinese people's founding of the People's Republic.

The group entered an empty theater. After the Americans were seated, the Chinese found their seats.

Following the performance, the Chinese hurried out of the theater and gathered around the entrance, leaving a narrow path for the Americans which led to the bus.

The group visited a large factory which had been built by the Japanese during World War II. Chinese factory workers stopped work and clapped for the visitors as the tour group was shown how various kinds of large equipment was made.

The Engelkes and Mr. and Mrs. George Harris of Fischer, Ill., explored Tokyo, Japan, their first trip to the East.

The first Japanese word they learned was "rushawa," buses, taxis, trains and people appear to rush more than they do in the United States.

In the center of the city is the Imperial Palace and the scenic gardens, surrounded by many, many people rushing everywhere — to parks, stores and restaurants.

Costs were high. Riding the "bullet train" to Kyoto proved to be quite an experience. "If you don't board the right car, you could ride miles out of your way. You must be on the right platform at the right time," Mrs. Engelke commented.

The Engelkes boarded a Pan-Am jet clipper back to the U.S. at 2:20 p.m. They increased the International Date Line and arrived in St. Louis at 9:30 p.m. the same day.

The marathon is starting today at 11:30 a.m. in front of the University Center bookstore patio and will end 50 hours later on Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Engelkes tour China, Japan

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Engelke have just returned from a three-week tour of China and Japan.

After spending two days in Hong Kong, they and 20 others from Illinois boarded a train which took them to Lo Wu, where they walked across the border to Shum Chun and officially entered the People's Republic of China.

Then they boarded another train for Kwangchow (Canton), where they were met by two English-speaking university graduates who accompanied them on their tour.

While they were visiting this 2000-year-old city, two high school students studying English made contacts for the group as they were shown the many scenic attractions and memorial places of interest.

While in Canton, they visited the Chinese Export Commodities Fair which promotes trade and contacts with other countries of the world.

Everybody in China works, they learned.

Over 80 percent of China's people are farmers. Even the mothers of young children work while their children are cared for in a day nursery.

Guides explained that after graduation, young people are assigned to a period of work on the land. Agriculture is organized into communes which are divided into brigades and then divided into teams.

Each team receives an income equal to the value of its product. The group visited a commune with a population of 75,000, with 15,000 households. The commune raised many ducks, chickens and hogs. Water buffalos were used in many of the fields.

The prospective Air Force cadet will graduate June 1 from Kellam High School in Virginia Beach, and report June 25 to the Air Force Academy.

His appointment was sponsored by U.S. Congressman C. William Whitehurst of the Second Virginia District.

Duane Schoenhardt, 19, a brother, recently has completed his first year at Blacksburg, Va.

The 25 year old decision also eliminated the separate but equal doctrine in schools.

At 1 p.m. Tuesday, May 22, at the Friendship Baptist Church, 301 Mercedia Ave., Venice, a special meeting of the local NAACP has been called by the Rev. John Henry Williams, president.

The purpose of the special meeting will be to select a delegate to the national convention in Louisville, Ky., during June.

Other items to be discussed will include a luncheon with Don Freeman on Thursday, May 24, and current community problems.

Rev. Williams is urging the membership to attend and said the meeting is open to the public.

KARATE ACHIEVEMENT by Mike Crain as he breaks 1,950 pounds of ice, 14 feet thick, with his elbow.

Karate demonstration here by holder of world records

A "world record karate spectacular" will be held Sunday, May 20, at 10 a.m. at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Ave.

Demonstrations of karate and judo skills by world-record holder Mike Crain will be featured. He has been spotlighted in Newsweek and also in a three-page article in Sports Illustrated telling about his kung-fu and karate camp.

He appeared in the TV special "Thrillseekers" in which he performed various feats of skill, such as cutting a watermelon in two on a person's stomach with a Samurai sword while blindfolded. He cut a potato off the neck of Senator Brock with a Samurai sword. Crain achieved a new world's record in Lynchburg, Va., when he broke 1,950 pounds of ice, 14 feet thick, with his elbow.

He established another world's record recently when he allowed 400 pounds of ice to be broken off the top of his stomach with a slide hammer while he was lying on five razor-sharp Samurai swords. He calls a similar feat done while between two beds of nails the "human sandwich of death."

Crain also preaches to the crowd after presenting several demonstrations. Free ticket and information are available at Central Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111, or 931-0991.

County U. S. savings bond drive is launched

The Madison County U.S. Savings Bond drive is now in full swing, according to Henry D. Karandjeff, bond sales volunteer county chairman.

The drive began with 25 volunteers attending a breakfast last week, sponsored by William P. Donovan, works manager of American Steel Foundries. Karandjeff has been serving as county chairman for U.S. Savings Bonds since the days of Pearl Harbor and holds the honor of being the longest continuous county bond chairman in the United States.

Chairman Karandjeff reports that during 1978 $7,408,591 in U.S. bonds were sold in Madison County, an increase over 1977.

The national goal for 1979 is in excess of $8 billion. The theme for the drive is "Take Stock in America."

"The people of the nation now own over $80 billion of U.S. savings bonds and a substantial part of this total has been sold through our payroll savings system."

"I feel that our Madison County industries, unions and banks should take pride in the excellent record that has been achieved in the past 38 years since the Series E bond program began," Karandjeff said.

Lawsuit pending against Madison

A lawsuit is pending in the U. S. District Court charging Mayor Mike Sayak of Madison, City Attorney Casper S. Nighohossian and City Building Inspector John Dutko with conspiracy to violate the civil rights of William Radman and Angelo Jones.

Nighohossian informed the Madison City Council of the suit at the Tuesday evening council meeting.

The issue is over the city's condemnation of property at 1657 Third St., Madison. Radman alleges that the conspiracy occurred due to the fact Jones is black. The suit is also contending that the Madison Housing Code is unconstitutional and that Inspector Dutko illegally entered the house.

The suit further alleges that the City of Madison is improperly using the building code.

Radman is asking for $130,000 in damages and other relief the court may see proper to award.

Dutko maintains that on Feb. 26, 1979, he sent a four page letter outlining repairs that needed to be made to the house before it could be sold, in compliance with the city housing and zoning codes.

The inspector's letter also allegedly stated that March 30 would be the final date to restore the house or condemnation proceedings would be filed with the court.

On April 6, having allegedly heard nothing from Radman and having issued no permits for repairs, Dutko inspected the house again. He allegedly found that no attempt had been made to repair the house and then posted a condemnation sign on the property.

Attorney David Adamson III has been hired to represent the Madison officials, since Nighohossian is named in the suit.

John Briner dies at game

John D. Briner, 69, of Mill Creek, Ill., the brother of a Granite City man and a frequent visitor here, died suddenly following an apparent heart attack at Busch Memorial Stadium, St. Louis, at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Briner suffered the attack as the baseball game was starting between the Cardinals and Montreal Expos.

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation measures were applied immediately by a spectator and later by ambulance attendants, but their efforts failed to revive Mr. Briner and he was pronounced dead upon arrival at City Hospital No. 1 in St. Louis.

An avid fan of the St. Louis Cardinals and of baseball in general, Mr. Briner had attended at least one-third of all home games each season for the past 40 years, driving 140 miles one way from his home in Mill Creek.

He was accompanied to Tuesday night's game by his brother, Byron Briner of Granite City, and a niece.

He was born in Ullin, Ill., and had resided his entire life in the Mill Creek-Ullin area.

Mr. Briner was widely known for his activities in all sports, especially baseball, and had managed teams in various leagues for many years.

He was active in the Mill Creek Baptist Church.

Before retiring about six years ago, Mr. Briner had spent most of his working life as a farm equipment salesman for Allis Chalmers Corp.

He also was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge and involved in senior citizen activities. He had many friends in the Quad-City area.

Mr. Briner had never married.

In addition to his brother, Byron Briner, also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Pearl Byrd of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Nettie Reid of Marion, Ill., and Mrs. Stella Deming of Mill Creek; and several nephews and nieces.

Services will take place at 1 p.m. Friday at a Jonesboro (Ill.) funeral home, with burial at St. John Cemetery, a few miles outside of Jonesboro.

Deterding leader in SIU Title IX complaint

ROBIN DETERDING

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CARBONDALE — Robin Deterding, perhaps the best female athlete ever to come out of Granite City, is in the news again. But not where one might expect her to be. Instead of being in the headlines for a good day at the plate on the Southern Illinois University softball team, Deterding is leading a group of 14 SIU-Carbonale woman athletes which recently filed a 25-page sex-discrimination complaint with the Civil Rights Office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). The complaint claims that SIU-C has not complied with the December, 1978 HEW interpretations of Title IX, a federal legislation passed in 1972 that specifically deals with sex discrimination in sports. The group filing the complaint says that inequalities exist in the areas of scholarships, recruitment, equipment and the method of travel and lodging on road trips. Deterding, a graduate of Granite City South and a member of the SIU-C volleyball and softball teams is a junior. She was one of two leaders of the group. "Title IX was passed in 1972," said Deterding. "But nothing has been done about it. How many generations will go through this school before getting equal standing?" Somebody had to do something. We believe in what we're doing," she added. "It's the law, but we're not in equal standing here. It's frustrating." Robin is the daughter of Granite City South basketball coach Don Deterding. "She called me a few days before they filed the complaint and said, 'Your rebel daughter is going public," said Don Deterding. "She believes very deeply in this. And when she believes in something, she means business." A spokesman for the Office of Civil Rights in Washington, D.C. said the complaint will be investigated by the Chicago office. Deterding, who recently received a full athletic scholarship for next year, said that if the complaint is rejected, the group might possibly consider filing a class-action lawsuit. "We were determined," she said. "I doubt if there was anything any administrator could have said that would have caused us not to send in the complaint."

Regional begins today

GRANITE CITY — The Alton Class AA Baseball Regional begins today at four sites around the area. In Granite City, GCHS North and South each have home games scheduled. South, the number-one seed in the tournament, will host number eight Jerseyville, while at North, the Steelers will entertain Roxana. North is seeded third. The winners of today's games will play in semifinal action Saturday at Alton. The championship game is set for next Monday in Alton at 4 p.m.

Madison gains 'sweet' revenge

MADISON — The Madison High School baseball team got a little revenge here Tuesday. And it was important revenge at that. The Trojans scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to score a come-from-behind 9-7 victory over St. Henry Prep of Belleville in the first round of the Freeburg Class A Regional Tournament. Madison eliminated by St. Henry is last year's regional tourney. The win means that Madison (4-10) will travel to Freeburg this afternoon for a 4 o'clock game with top-seeded Freeburg. Things looked pretty safe for Madison most of the game. It scored twice in the second inning and four more times in the third to grab a seemingly safe 6-1 lead. In the second, Ken Briggs walked, stole second and scored on a single by catcher Ed Burns. Burns went to third on a two-base error by the St. Henry centerfielder and scored on a wild pitch by Graf. In the third, Madison's James Godair walked and went to second on a passed ball. He scored when third baseman Keith Layton singled up the middle. Briggs then walked and went to second on a passed ball. Layton was forced at third, but Burns again drove in Briggs with a single. He advanced to second on another passed ball and scored when pitcher Barry Reynolds stroked a triple down the right field line. He scored on the third passed ball of the inning. St. Henry began its comeback with an innocent-looking run in the fifth inning. Then the roof fell in. Three Madison errors in the sixth allowed five unearned St. Henry runs to cross the plate. There went the dreams of revenge. The Trojans comeback started when Godair singled and scored on a double by Steve McKinney. Layton, singled in McKinney. McKinney was forced by Briggs, who reached base on a fielder's choice. Briggs scored on a single by Burns. "I was happy with the way we kept our heads in there after St. Henry came back," said Madison Coach John Paskus. "Their pitcher was a little difficult to hit at times, though." Paskus was referring to Graf, who had a change-of-pace type of pitch with very little velocity. "It was almost like batting practice," said Paskus. "But our guys were off-stride early in the game and it got a little frustrating." About today's match-up with Freeburg, Paskus said, "I think we'll be able to give them a good game. But it all depends on our pitching game." Should Madison win, it will play again Saturday at Freeburg.

EUU braces for girls track

BLOOMINGTON — Given good weather, competition in the 1979 Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Girls State Final Track Meet scheduled this weekend at O'Brien Stadium on the campus of Eastern Illinois Univ., Charleston, could be a S-U-Z-L-I-N-G conclusion to the decade of the Seventies. Nearly 1,200 athletes from more than 350 schools will converge on O'Brien Stadium Friday and Saturday for the second two-class Girls State Final Meet, but the 7th meet in the brief history of the girls track program in Illinois. Preliminaries in all events (except the two-mile run) will be conducted Friday, beginning at 9 a.m. Finals in all 16 events (except the two-mile run) will be conducted Friday, beginning at 9 a.m. Finals in all 16 events are scheduled for Saturday, starting at 11 a.m., following the traditional Parade of Competitors.

Seven members of the Madison girls track team qualified for the Class A state meet. They are: Darlene Reed in the shot put and the Trojannes' 880 and 880 medley relay teams. The members of the 880 relay team are Gloria McNeil, Jacqueline Ware, Veronica Barney and Terri Smith. The 880 medley team is made up of Annette Walker, Ware, Smith and Veronica Williams. This year's meet will be the last conducted in the traditional English measurement system. Beginning next spring the statewide series will be conducted in the Metric system. Records established this year will become the final all-time marks for the English system, and mark established in the Metric system under the Metric system will be born in 1980. As many as eight IHSA (and/or Class AA) state records are in jeopardy, and as many as thirteen Class A records could fall. Competition in the two-class system is based upon the enrollment of the schools. Schools with enrollments of 750 or less are in Class A schools with enrollments of 750 or more are in Class AA. Six individual event champions from the 1978 meet return: in Class A, three in Class AA and Greenville's Lisa Ferry, who took last year's Class AA shot put, but whose school dropped in enrollment to Class A status this year. Ferry, a junior, will battle defending Class A champion and record-holder Almee Sawlaw of Monticello in the shot put. Ferry posted a 48-8 in the shot put to Sawlaw's 42-34. The other returning Class A champion is Lisa Plummer of Normal (Univ.) in the high jump. The Class

AA returning champions are sophomore Sheila Erickson of Rockford (Guiford) in the mile, senior Desiree Pritchett of Chicago (Dunbar) in the 100-yard dash and junior Jackie Joyner of East St. Louis (Lincoln) in the 400-yard dash. Madison's time in the 880 yard medley relay was the third-fastest among district winning times. The Trojannes ran the distance in 1:56.1. Aurora Central was the fastest with a 1:55.1, while Elmhurst (Immaculate Conception) was second fastest in 1:55.3. Right behind Madison was Mahomet Seymour with a 1:57.6. The Trojannes' time of 1:52.1 was the sixth-fastest among district bests, while Reed's loss of 37 feet, 11 inches in the shot put was the ninth-best.

A 'hopping' good time

GRANITE CITY — The annual Granite City Grade Schools Sports Jamboree, held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week was a big attraction for Granite City children.

The girls competition was held Tuesday, with the boys taking part yesterday, but the main prize was the competition and fun the kids had. There were enough cheers and shouts of joy to fill a stadium.

But there were no losers at the Sports Jamboree. Just winners.

GC's Evans, SIU Salukis eye MVC crown

Special to the Press-Record

WICHITA — Ranked fifth in the nation in the latest Collegiate Baseball poll, the Southern Illinois University baseball team will be in search of its third-straight Missouri Valley Conference title here this Friday through Monday, May 18-21.

The Salukis, 34-0, have won the MVC title the past two years, winning eight straight games in the double-elimination tourney. The winner of the MVC title earns an automatic berth in the NCAA Midwest Regional which will begin on May 24 at a site to be announced later.

SIU will open tourney play on Friday when it tangles with Creighton at 4 p.m. (CDT) at Lawrence Stadium. The Salukis and Bluejays have never met before on the baseball field. Creighton will enter the contest with a record of 17-25-1.

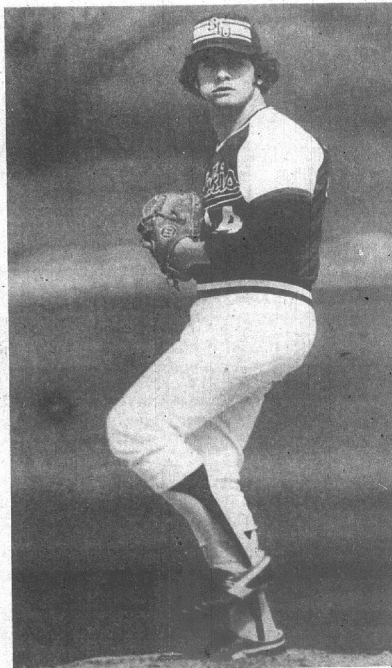

Last year, SIU raced through the field unbeaten by taking a 12-2 decision over New Mexico State, defeating Bradley 10-4, Tulsa 8-1 and Wichita State 10-8.

The Salukis will head into the competition with a powerful pitching staff headed by sophomore sensation Paul Evans. The Granite City native leads the nation in earned-run average (ERA) with an amazing 0.20 mark. He has posted a superlative 6-0 record.

He'll be joined by fellow soph Bob Schroek who has an 11-0 record (winning 14 straight over two seasons) and an ERA of 0.92. Senior Kevin Waldrop (7-2, 2.60) and junior Micky Wright (6-2, 3.09) round out the Salukis' big four.

NOTES
EVANS ON STREAK — Sophomore right-hander Paul Evans (6-0, nation leading 0.20 ERA) has yielded but one earned run all season long over 44 2-3 innings. The 6-2, 200-pounder from Granite City, has also given up only one extra base hit all season and has not been touched for an earned run in his last 34 innings.

The only earned run he has given up this year came on the spring trip to Florida when he walked four Texas A & M batters in one inning. Among his wins this year was a no-hitter vs. SIU-Edwardsville where he faced the minimum 21 men in his seven-inning gem.

Exit Mercer's—enter Edwardsville Civics

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The days of Mercer's domination of the Illinois Inter City Baseball League are no more.

The reason? Actually there are two reasons. First, Mercer's does not belong to the league any more. Second, there is no more a Mercer's team. Confused? Don't be. The same old team, give or take a few players is still around; it just isn't going by the name of Mercer's anymore and it isn't playing the same teams it used to.

Mercer's for the past several years has run rampant over the other teams in the Inter City League. So much so, that last year's player-manager Pat Peterson, along with the rest of the squad more or less decided to drop out of the old loop in favor of going the independent semi-pro route. There's no money involved, Peterson explained, the name semi-pro just means there are some former professional players on the team.

The Inter City League was a "good league," said Peterson. "But we sort of out-grew it. But it's not the same league it used to be." The first thing the team had to do was get a new coach. And they came up with a good one, former

The Sporting Thing

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville mentor Roy E. Lee. "We came up with one of the best coaches around," said Peterson. "It takes a lot of the pressure off of me, too."

Peterson was referring to the fact that last season he had the burden of not only playing shortstop, but making personnel changes at the same time during games. "It got pretty tough to play short and decide when to lift a pitcher or pinch-hit for somebody," he said. The team changed its name, too. Exit Mercer's...enter the "Edwardsville Civics." "Much of our money is coming from Edwardsville businesses," said Peterson. "But that doesn't mean our old sponsor isn't helping out, too. We kept our uniforms from last season and took the name 'Mercer's' off. They (Mercer's) also contributed quite a bit of equipment, plus they took out a large advertisement in our program." The team will be playing its home games on a new field. Instead of shagging flies at Wilson Park Diamond Number One in Granite City, the Civics will now do it at Edwardsville's Hoppe Park. "We had planned on splitting our games evenly with Granite City and play under the lights at Granite City South's field. But since the lights aren't up yet, we'll have to use Hoppe Park." But the major change, according to Peterson, is on the field. "We've improved ourselves about 40 percent," he said. "We've added a few pitchers and infielders to help us out."

The pitching staff will include such familiar names as Jerry Deml, Todd Brook, Stan Osterbur, Jerry Logan and Sam Pastroovich from last season's squad. The additions are Dan Walker, a member of the Kansas University team (with a 1.97 earned-run-average) and Dave Scheller from Mount Olive, Ill.

The infield will include Bill Lee at first base, Bob Hughes at second, Peterson at shortstop and John Urban at third. The catching duties will probably be split between two newcomers, Tony Gassaway (from Jefferson Junior College), and Dave O'Day (from Lincoln, Ill. Junior College).

The outfield will include two Granite Cityans, Jim Greenwald and Jack Scarborough. New additions include Bill Stolle (from SIU-Edwardsville), and Bill Marcusa (from Western Illinois University). Dave Schaeke will serve as a utility player.

Most of the Civics' home games will be under the lights on week nights, not the old Sunday afternoon doubleheaders of the Inter City League. The team will be facing such foes as Jefferson City, Mo., Cape Girardeau, Mo., as well as The Music Room Vans and Highland Pierson, from the old IC League.

The team hopes it will ultimately be playing for the National Baseball Congress (NBC) title, and thausated to mean beginning with the Southern Illinois District, which Mercer's won last season.

But this season, the Civics have been accepted into playing for the Missouri state title. The top two teams in the playoffs will advance to the national finals in Wichita in August. "And that," said Peterson, "is our ultimate goal."

The Spinal Column

By DR. RICHARD C. REINHARDT
A UNIQUE APPROACH TO HEALTH

Part 1

The key to health is total balance, both structurally and chemically. Part one deals with the structural aspect and part two, the chemical or nutritional aspect.
 Your body is a finely tuned machine designed by a marvelous creator. You have the responsibility to see that it is properly maintained. If you do, your reward will be good health. Unfortunately the majority of people do not take proper care of their bodies. For example, we all know that a fall or accident can easily misalign our spinal column to the point that a vertebra can misalign the front end of an automobile. The end result is abnormal physical stress that will cause the fires to wear out quickly. A parallel holds true with your body. The abnormal stress on your spinal column causes early and premature degeneration of the tissues. Disc degeneration, herniation, arthritic calcareous deposits, abnormal curvatures are but a few examples of what stress can do to the spinal column.

When the spinal column is under abnormal stress, so is the enclosed spinal cord and spinal nerves that control the direct activities throughout your entire body. As the nervous system begins to degenerate, we observe problems that appear to have no relationship to the spinal column such as constipation, difficult menses, indigestion, heart burn, nervousness, fatigue, numbness and tingling in the arms and legs, headaches, etc.
 The central point is this. You can be healthy if you assume that responsibility. A spinal examination once a year by a competent Chiropractic Physician is essential. If you have had an accident or fall, then an immediate examination is important. An injured and misaligned spinal column can only become healthy after it is properly realigned and stabilized.

Jackets score late victory over South

GRANITE CITY — New Athens keeps "Four-ing" it on.
 What happened to many prep baseball teams in this area happened to the Granite City South baseball Warriors here Monday when one of New Athens' four brothers did them in. This time it was Kevin Poir. He blasted a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth to give last year's Class A state runners-up a 3-2 win.
 The game was originally scheduled for New Athens, but was played at South because of wet grounds on the Yellowjackets' home field. South was the "visiting" team.
 South jumped out to an early 1-0 lead when Jim Thurman walked, and scored when Todd McFarland reached base on an error by the New Athens shortstop.
 In the fourth inning, Bob Stegemeyer singled, stole second, advanced to third on a single by catcher Mark Linhart, and scored when teammate Pat Poirer was caught in a run-down between third and second. Hogan was thrown out after keeping the ball in play long enough for Stegemeyer to score.
 Then came that fateful sixth inning for New Athens. And it all started with two men out.
 Yellow Jacket Byron Raigans tripled with two out, followed by a run-scoring single off the bat of New Athens' Dan Koenigstein. Then Poir stepped to the plate.

 South mounted a comeback attempt of its own in the seventh inning, but — to add insult to injury — the "other" Poir brother came in. Ken Poir — as a relief pitcher — slammed the door shut on South.
 South was to have played at Roxana Tuesday, but the game was cancelled when the Shells were forced to make up a conference game on that date.
 South's next action will come this afternoon at home when it hosts Jerseyville at 4 o'clock in the first round of home against Collinsville at Regional.

Mitchell sweeps

MITCHELL — The Mitchell entry in the Illinois Inter City Baseball League got its season off to a good start here Sunday, sweeping a doubleheader with the Wood River Brewers, 3-2 and 14-4.
 In the first game, Mitchell's Bud Prazma was the winning pitcher, striking out 10 and allowing only three hits. Joe Parette had a triple for Mitchell, while John Harding and Jeff Hamilton each had doubles.
 In the second game, Ken Crawford was the winning pitcher, striking out seven. Mike Stanson had a double for Mitchell.
 The next action for Mitchell will be this Sunday at home against Collinsville at 1 p.m. in doubleheader action.

Nameoki withdraws pledge to Pontoon Coordinated Youth

The Nameoki Town Board Monday night voted to withdraw its $2,500 pledge to the Pontoon Beach-Nameoki area office of Coordinated Youth Services "until they get things settled."

The branch office in the Pontoon Beach Village Hall has lost support of $3,000 from the Pontoon Beach Lions Club and $2,500 from the township since the village board demanded the resignation of office director Donald Patrick over political differences.

Patrick ran for village board president, opposing Paul Bennett, who was elected to that post.

The trustees then demanded Patrick be removed from the office, due to criticism by Patrick of the current president, trustees and chief of police during the campaign.

Patrick resigned this month, saying he would rather do so than endanger the future of the program by attempting to fight the wishes of the village board.

The town board approved the selling of two tax anticipation warrants. One is for $30,000 for the town fund and the other is for $10,000 for municipal retirement.

Supervisor Harold Davis indicated the township will watch expenditures carefully and he hopes additional borrowing can be avoided until taxes can be received.

While taxes normally reach the township in July, Davis said he fears the tax money could be held up as late as September, due to confusion over the elimination of the corporate personal property tax.

Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelec said his department is behind in its schedule for tree and limb pickups about two to three weeks and the large backlog in each precinct is slowing the workers down. He asked that township residents stop putting trees and limbs out for pickup, until workers in the environmental cleanup program can catch up with the normal schedule.

The trustees agreed to have Davis write a letter to county Comprehensive Employment and Training Act officials, asking permission for the township's CETA employees to go onto private property in emergency cases.

It was indicated the township would like to clean up one lot but there is no apparent way to contact the owner to clean it up. Trustees indicated that permission to use the CETA employees on private property could be helpful in isolated instances.

Davis reported the six new fire hydrants in the Cloverleaf Addition are ready to use, in the event of a fire.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, May 29, due to the Memorial Day holiday. The Church names 'mother of year'

Mrs. Ed (Ann) Johnson, 2326 W. 24th St., was named "Mother of the Year" during worship services this week at the Word of Life Tabernacle.

Mrs. Johnson has been a member of the Word of Life Tabernacle for the past 2½ years and has driven the church van for the last two years.

The honoree and her husband have three children still at home, Mark, Brian and Barbara Johnson.

Their other children are Mrs. Sharon Ozes, Michael Moussette, Mrs. Annette Isham, Richard Moussette and Ronald Moussette.

The Rev. Henry Crippen, pastor, announced Mrs. Johnson's selection at the Mother's Day church service.

town hall and highway department will be closed Monday, May 28, for the holiday.

Mary Kane is promoted

Mary Kane, Madison County's Community Development director since 1976, was appointed as the county's administrative assistant by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer during yesterday's county board meeting.

The board overwhelmingly approved the appointment. She was selected from among 25 applicants for the $23,295 per year position, five of whom were interviewed.

Mrs. Kane replaces Matt Melucci, who resigned to become executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. The board agreed to advertise for applicants to head the community development department.

Ed Harris of Granite City, assistant to Paul Hawkins in the county's environmental control department, was named the county's new director of the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (Civil Defense), but only after lengthy debate on whether the job should be continued full-time, reduced to part-time or eliminated entirely.

Board Member Richard Worthen of Alton made a motion to abolish the CD director job and tax levy. He suggested Harris be appointed a part-time liaison officer to coordinate only needed community defense programs.

On a divided vote, Hagauer's appointment of Harris was upheld by the board after an amendment, by Anthony Bosich of Wood River to make the job part-time was defeated.

Bosich, who is on the environmental control committee, which oversees the Civil Defense office, said he was never able to determine what the retired Community Defense director, Ted Todoff, did.

That led to criticism of the environmental control committee for not properly supervising the Civil Defense operations.

Board Member Louis Whitsett contended there have been three emergencies in Nameoki Township recently and Civil Defense did not provide sufficient aid at any of them. Whitsett cited breaks in the Gaslight Walk Sewage Lagoon levee, another levee break and a train derailment near Collinsville.

Hagauer's appointment won out over the objections and Harris' salary was set at $16,000 per year.

Fred Finck and Terry Francis, who is from Granite City, were reappointed to the county's Board of Review and Roy Fruit, Walter Greathouse and Harold Peters were reappointed to the county Zoning Board of Appeals.

The board changed the Memorial Day holiday from Wednesday, May 30, to Monday, May 28, and agreed to close the courthouse on the 28th.

It was announced the county's first delinquent property auction will be held June 14 at 7 p.m. in the county board room. Forty parcels of property will be up for auction. A catalogue of the properties will be ready Monday, it was announced.

Man faces three charges

Charles Lee Vestal, 31, 2102 State St., Apt. 2, was released on $250 cash bond at 10:50 a.m. Saturday, after being charged with resisting a police officer, illegal transportation of alcohol and possession of cannabis.

At 2:30 a.m. Saturday, in the Jack-In-Box restaurant parking lot, at Nameoki Road and Clark Avenue, Vestal was allegedly seen getting out of a car with a can of beer in his hand.

He was stopped by a police officer and told to pour it out, and was also ordered to empty several other cans of beer that were allegedly in the car.

According to police Vestal demanded the name, badge number and home address of the arresting officer, who was walking around the car to question a passenger.

While asking the passenger for identification the officer allegedly saw a canister of marijuana in the car.

The officer was holding the canister in his hand when Vestal, according to police, grabbed the canister from the officer and started running.

He was caught, handcuffed, taken to jail and charged.

Vi-Brations will sing at local church

The Vi-Brations will be singing the evening service at Trinity United Methodist Church, E. 25th and Henry streets, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

The group began about eight years ago and have sung in many churches and at civic celebrations.

They have two record albums. Although Fairview Heights is their home base, members also live in Belleville, Mascoutah and Troy. Members are Doug Henderson, Kevin Whiter, Don Hite, Gary Lightfoot, Del Henderson, Russ Sparger and the road manager and president Don Watson.

The evening will begin at 6:30 with a pot luck supper in the church basement, and the singing will start at 7.

Gambling tab charge filed

Dale Thomas Stewart, 56, of Brighton, Ill. was released on $200 cash bond at 1:48 p.m. Saturday after being charged with possession of gambling paraphernalia.

Two Granite City detectives were in Ken's Lounge, 1530 20th St., when they observed Stewart enter. A warrant was on file for Stewart for allegedly delivering gambling tabs to local taverns.

The detectives allegedly saw Stewart leave the tavern and return with a box of gambling tabs, known as "Happy Hour."

Stewart was followed to the VFW. After 40 minutes Stewart came out of the VFW and was stopped by the detectives.

He was advised of his rights and placed under arrest.

Police allegedly found 36 boxes of various gambling tabs in the auto driven by Stewart.

Prather vocal concert Friday

On Friday at 7:30 p.m., the Prather Junior High School girls' glee club, mixed chorus and recorder group will present a spring concert in the school gymnasium.

Admission is free and the public is invited. A variety of musical selections will be performed by the three groups, including theme music from the "Happy Candy Man," a spiritual, "Walk Together, Children," sacred numbers including "Folk 23rd" by Ruth Artmann and "Come, Jesus, Holy Son of God" by G. F. Handel, and "Commercials," a novelty number about commercial themes. Dancers will be featured from the 1950s era and the choir will perform several choreographed selections. Mrs. Alicia Popplechak is vocal director at Prather.

Winning a skirmish in the mosquito war

By WAYNE B. SIEFFERT
Area Adviser, Horticulture
Heavy rains and wet weather are producing a lot of hungry mosquitoes.

Two species of mosquitoes will team up to become a nuisance around backyard patios or your favorite fishing hole.

Floodwater or temporary pool mosquitoes that lay their eggs on soil in lowland areas before flooding will be backyard pests the next two or three weeks. They are good fliers and can travel as much as four miles a night to a distance of 10 to 20 miles.

Floodwater mosquitoes do not transmit St. Louis encephalitis and generally do not present a health problem to man.

Local sportsmen and dog owners should take extra precautions because flood water mosquitoes do transmit heartworm (a round-worm) to dogs.

The permanent-pool mosquito (common house mosquito) is the mosquito found in bird baths, children's swimming pools and old tires near the home property. These will not build up to problem proportions for another four to six weeks.

In wet years, flood water mosquitoes will probably outnumber the common house mosquito by nine to one.

Here are some suggestions for mosquito control in your home and yard.

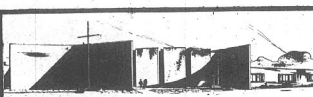

Indoors, use the plastic resin strips containing 20 percent dichlorvos (DDVP) in every room. These strips will kill mosquitoes and flies for several weeks.

Do not use these strips in kitchens or other areas where food is exposed or in rooms where infants are ill or aged persons are confined. Keep a pressurized can on hand containing 0.1 percent pyrethrin for an instant knockdown.

Around the patio, spray the shrubs, vines, under porches, and tall grass with malathion. It may be worthwhile to spray again just before a cookout or backyard party. Repeat every five to seven days as long as the problem exists.

If you are going fishing or camping, use rub-on or spray-on repellent. One of the most effective repellents is DEET (diethyltoluamide), often sold at OFF.

2,000 at PTA convention; GC woman heads district

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

About 2,000 delegates, representing 300,000 PTA members, attended the 77th annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers that concluded last week at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

The theme, "Positive Thinking Achieves... For All Children," allowed the parents, teachers, school administrators, students and other citizens to deliberate on issues affecting children and youth, according to those attending from the Granite City Area Council of PTAs and local units.

Among the highlights of the convention was the installation of Barbara Haddock, 4848 Warnock Ave., as director of District 29.

Mrs. Haddock's duties will include representing the state PTA and serving the needs of local units and councils within the boundaries of Calhoun, Greene, Macoupin, Jersey, Montgomery and Madison counties.

The Granite City woman also was appointed to serve on the State PTA Board of Managers and on the board's Convention Exhibits 1980, Hospitality and Cultural Arts committees.

Attending the state conference from here were Mrs. Julie Gates, president-elect of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs; James Jeffries, principal, and Mrs. Andrea Oliver, PTA president, Webster School; Richard Brinkhoff, principal, and Grady White, PTA president, Johnson School; Mrs. Phyllis Ryan, Parkview School.

Mrs. Judy Thompson,

PTA president, and Mrs. Diane Baker, Mitchell School; Mrs. Linda Russell and Mrs. Lynn McClean, Nameoki School; and Bill Smithson, PTA president, and Mrs. Linda McGee and Mrs. Sylvia Woods, Wilson School.

The delegates participated in group conferences with state officers and chairmen, heard several widely known speakers, elected officers for the coming two years, deliberated and voted upon various issues and considered resolutions of interest to PTA members.

Mrs. Louis (Mabel) Veronda of Joliet, Illinois Congress of PTAs president, presided.

Principal speaker at the concluding banquet was Dr. Dean F. Berkley of Indiana University School of Education and Indiana state superintendent of schools, who spoke on the topic, "Divide to Declare."

Students awarded scholarships from the 25 PTA districts in Illinois were honored at a scholarship luncheon. The awards have been made each year since 1955.

State officers elected for two-year terms included:

Mrs. Arthur (Mary) Leon, Chicago, vice president, Department of Home and Community; Mrs. William S. (Doris Jean) Keiler, Glencoe, vice president, Department of Education; and Mrs. Charles (Leonora) Dyckin, Chicago, secretary.

Resolutions adopted by the PTA Congress:

Support the Illinois Commerce Commission in efforts to remove unused railroad tracks through legislation.

Support legislation to revise the teacher retirement system formula so there will be no reduction in pension benefits for early retirement at age 55 with 30 or more years of creditable service.

Support legislation banning the sale of paraphernalia used in connection with smoking marijuana.

Inform all PTA members of the value of an after school program designed for children who otherwise would be unsupervised, such as the "latchkey" program.

Support and promote legislation to provide an annual adjustment in state aid formulas to reflect the rate of inflation.

Promote and support legislation providing for state reimbursement for transporting public school pupils living within 1 1/2 miles of school when walking would present a serious safety hazard; and support legislation to ensure continued financial support by the Illinois Department of Transportation to public transportation authorities currently providing service, or wishing to extend their service to public school children who would otherwise have no safe access to and from school.

The International Year of the Child, being celebrated this year, was the continuing theme prevalent throughout the 77th annual convention proceedings and exhibits.

Gas storage worse than gas shortage

"It is extremely dangerous to keep supplies of gasoline in homes or garages," Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente warned this week.

"There have been recent reports of persons being injured and killed when gasoline stored in homes exploded, Parente stated.

State laws prohibit bulk sales of flammable liquids, and city ordinances specifically ban the selling of gasoline in large quantities. State law limits gasoline sales to delivery directly into motor vehicle fuel tanks, or up to five gallons per approved, red labeled gasoline containers, Parente explained.

"I would like to emphasize that with predicted gasoline shortages, some may be tempted to 'stockpile' some gasoline in their homes or garages. The danger far outweighs any advantages. Gasoline has far more explosive force than most people realize and keeping more than a few gallons in a house can result in having the entire house, and its occupants, destroyed by explosion and fire," Parente concluded.

Miniseries looks at real spy games

David Niven stars with Michael York and Barbara Hershey in "A Man Called Intrepid," a six-hour miniseries detailing the formation of an Allied espionage network during World War II. Paul Harding, Flora Robson, Peter Gilmore, Renee Asherson and Gayle Hunnicutt also star in the action thriller, which was filmed entirely on location

The drama centers on the exploits of Canadian multi-millionaire Sir William Stephenson (Stevenson), who organized and guided British espionage activities during WW II, including the establishment of a training facility for agents at the top-secret "Camp X," in Ontario.

In the film, David Niven stars as Stephenson. York plays Evan Michaelian, a young unconventional Englishman who starts out as an irritant to Stephenson but becomes one of his most trusted operatives. Barbara Hershey is a young woman who undergoes a year of torture without revealing even her code name.

Even Robin Williams seems to be throwing his hands up and saying, "I dunno why I'm so crazy," as he plays the Orkan who has trouble adjusting to earth in "Mork & Mindy," Thursdays on ABC.

SOON TO BE SOLD. A third modern home has been built by students in the Building Trades Classes of the Granite City Community School District. The home is located at 2134

Hamilton Drive. The two-year educational venture is a six-room brick house, constructed by students under the direction of Larry R. King, building and trades instructor.

Student-built house will be sold by bid

By MICK STRANGE
"Learning by Doing" is the motto adopted by the Building Trades department of Granite City Community School District 9.

A new house, located at 2134 Hamilton Drive, is the product of a two year educational adventure.

Construction of the six room brick house has been directed by Larry King, building trades instructor. An open house will be held on Thursday, May 24, from noon until 3 p.m. and on Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Prospective buyers may see the house at other times by appointment only. Appointments after the open house may be made by calling 877-1512, Ext. 48.

The house may be sold to the highest bidder with the board of education reserving the right to reject all bids. Sealed bids are to be submitted not later than 3 p.m. Monday, June 4, to the board office, 20th and Adams streets.

The house is built on an 80x125 foot lot.

Built in a split foyer style, the house has a two car garage with a four inch concrete floor, reinforced with 6 x 6 inch number 10 wire mesh on top of a four inch rock fill.

A 1,575 square foot living area is divided into: three bedrooms, entrance foyer, living room, dining room, kitchen, two full baths, spacious closets and a full basement.

It is heated by natural gas and has central air conditioning. The floors are fully carpeted, with inlaid linoleum in baths, kitchen and entrance foyer.

The master bath has a four foot molded shower.

The kitchen has Shenandoah Pecan cabinets, 25 lineal feet of upper cabinets and 22 lineal feet of base cabinets, with two lazy susans, almond colored appliances, dishwasher, and a built-in range with vented exhaust hood.

Energy saving features include all exterior doors insulated, six inch thick exterior wall insulation, nine inch insulation in ceiling, insulated overhang on upper level of house, Andersen thermal pane windows and Visqueen vapor barrier between drywall and finish walls.

In addition to building trades, other vocational students contributing to the project were drafting, welding, machine, electric, heating and air conditioning students.

A special recognition is being given by the Board of Education to local trade unions for their support and acceptance of the program. This is the third house Granite City vocational students have built.

Temporary employees sought

Taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Antal was treated for back pain and was released. Also listed as injured were Mrs. Dorothy Antal and Marianne Chubbuck, Hazelwood, Mo., passengers in Antal's auto.

Rockathon a success despite chilly weather

Disagrees with legal opinion

Casper S. Nighohossian of Granite City, who resigned last week as an assistant state's attorney with the Madison County state's attorney's office, released his resignation letter Tuesday. It had been given to State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron.

In the letter, Nighohossian said he "strongly disagrees" with an opinion by the Illinois attorney general's office that a potential conflict of interest exists between the jobs of assistant state's attorneys and positions with cities, villages and other public bodies, "not only as to myself, but also as to all of my former colleagues."

However, Nighohossian said, "I will abide by your decision to comply with said opinion and your extension thereof."

"I thank you for your offer of time to consider which positions I will retain, however, I think that my decision should be made as soon as possible so that the public's business may proceed in an orderly manner."

"Therefore, I wish to advise you that I have decided to continue as the city attorney for Madison and the condemnation attorney for Granite City and tender my resignation to you as assistant state's attorney effective immediately," Nighohossian concluded.

He was among three assistants who decided to resign after Byron decided to comply with the attorney general's opinion and gave city and township positions and their jobs as assistant state's attorney.

One assistant, Don Smith, resigned his post as attorney for Wood River Township, so he could remain with Byron's staff.

GARAGE BREAK-IN
Chuck Sheets discovered his garage on South Fourth Street, Venice, was burglarized during the weekend. Items taken were two welding hoods and two spray cans. A door had been broken to gain entry.

With temperatures in the low 40s, a chill and damp wind blowing, students — no faint-hearted kids, these — from the speech classes of Granite City High School South started the third annual rockathon promptly at 9 a.m. at the ice rink in Wilson Park during the weekend.

Kit Walmsley, student chairman, and John Manogian, Susan Range and Charlene Bennington, co-chairmen, were in charge. Ron Pennell, director of the Speech Department and serving as the students' adviser, was on duty throughout the 12-hour event.

Only a few participants were willing to shed their coverings of blankets, shawls, afghans and quilts to dance, periodically, to the hands provided by For-naszewski's Music Store and a volunteer "rock" band named "Blitzkrieg."

Relatives, friends and sponsors stopped by to shout encouragement to the "rockers" from time to time.

Youngest rocker was Jeff Chaboude, 10 year old and a fifth grade student at Niedringhaus School. The oldest was Mrs. Fanny Epstein, who is 80.

Granite City auxiliary policemen were on duty for the entire 12 hours, volunteering their time.

Mrs. Lily Chaboude, president of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, which sponsors the event, thanked all those who participated, congratulating them on their "courage and endurance on this, the coldest of all rockathons."

Other Society members in attendance were Ron and Gertrude Luebben, Glen Chaboude, Fanny Epstein, Louis Pashoff, Jim Talley, Roger Higgins, Bonnie Lazenby, Dave Whitsell and Walter "Corky" Christiansen.

HITS UTILITY POLE
Donna Beavers, 31, National City, suffered pain to her head after her auto struck a utility pole Monday evening. She was first treated at St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis, where she received X-rays, and then she came to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 6:45 p.m. Monday for additional treatment. She was released.
